

Jean-Philippe Mocho

has been a veterinarian for >20 years. He has dedicated most of his career to laboratory animals. He has developed a special interest for aquatic species and convenes fish working groups for FELASA. Based in London, UK, Jean-Philippe Mocho is a consultant for various academia and other research stakeholders in Europe.